

In life's every up or down

Alan is an outgoing and kind person, and he has been my best friend since Form Two. Although he is not the best at studying, he always encourages me to chase my dreams.

To be honest, I am quite shy, and I didn't make any good friends during primary school. But surprisingly, Alan would always make the effort to talk to me, and I enjoyed talking to him, too. He made me feel like my classmates did care about me and wanted to be friends.

Thank you for making me smile again, Alan. I hope we can be best friends forever.
